RETIRING PROFESSORS TO BE HONORED

IMMEDIATE RELEASE - May 14, 1974

San Diego, California

A testimonial dinner will be given by the Phi Alpha Theta History Honor Society on May 17 to honor two members of the University of San Diego faculty who will be retiring this spring, History professors Sister Catherine McShane, Ph.D., and Joseph W. Ruane, Ph.D.

Sister McShane, a Religious of the Sacred Heart, has been in San Diego since 1956. She did her undergraduate work at Duchesne College of the Sacred Heart in Omaha before going on to Loyola University, Chicago for her M.A.. The University of California, Berkeley awarded her Ph.D. in History. Sister McShane has been named archivist for the Western Province of the Religious of the Sacred Heart and will reside in South San Francisco.

Dr. Ruane came to USD in 1958. He did his undergraduate work at Holy Cross College in Worcester, Massachusetts, and at St. Bernard's College in New York. Ruane received his Masters and Ph.D. in history from the Catholic University of America in Washington. Dr. Ruane will be returning to the state of New York.
